CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES

Mr. Walter Pforzheimer
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Pforzheimer:

In its Progress Report to the Joint Committee on Foreign Economic Cooperation, the staff of that committee has suggested that the Congress might give further consideration to the relationship of the procurement of strategic materials to the Foreign Assistance Program.

For the past several months, members of the staff have been making a study of this subject and have prepared the enclosed report. This report is not for publication but we take pleasure in sending one to you for your information.

Sincerely yours,
